

DePaul Industries The Northwest source for a quality workforce

“The positive attitude of their people and their willingness to help with any problem has made OneCreditSource.com a pleasure to do business with.”

Travis Pearson, General Manager

Business Overview

For more than 30 years DePaul Industries has served some of America's best run companies and is the Northwest's most comprehensive outsourcing specialist. In the past five years DePaul Industries has employed 5,000 people and offers temporary staffing to many public and private organizations in the region.

Business Challenge

To ensure their reputation for providing high quality staff, DePaul Industries needs a partner who could offer thorough background checks. They also need to be able to make quick hiring decisions especially when the pool of available job seekers is declining. DePaul Industries choose OneCreditSource.com for their employment screening partner. “OneCreditSource.com provided us with outstanding customer service and great pricing,” said Travis Pearson, general manager. “The positive attitude of their people and their willingness to help with any problem has made OneCreditSource.com a pleasure to do business with.”

OneCreditSource.com's fast turnaround and depth of information provided was enough to convince Pearson. “The OneCreditSource.com's employment screening service allows me to provide the best match between the job and the applicant which makes my customers happy. And when I need more detail on an applicant I can always count on my OneCreditSource.com account representative to be responsive, and to get right on it. We were dissatisfied with the service from our previous partner,” concludes Pearson. “We are very glad we made the switch to OneCreditSource.com.”
